Thank you for this.

Looks like a nice conference.

I have to thank you for your kind invitation to that great event. The very interesting topics, Your professionalism and hospitality made it a pleasure being guest of GfK.

Thank you very much for the invitation. It was a real pleasure to participate in the Employee Research Conference on Creating High Performing Organizations yesterday.

It is very difficult to have a discussion, as most people do not know much about it.

I would like to participate two round tables but have to make choice between them --> wants more information
